

3. Write a model for the area of the rectangular pen in terms of the length of one side. Include both an equation and a graph.

4. What kind of function is this? How do you know?

5. How does this function compare to the second type of block I logos in I Rule?